Subject: walmart banking

I know you do not know me , but I would like to voice a personal plea, that walmart interest in the banking industries would create a dangerous concentration of power. A bank owned by the worlds largest corporation in the world could only pose a serious threat to drive community banks out of business, like they have done to all our locally owned grocery stores.

Please consider my plea of not letting walmart take over another local owned business. I believe the country could change its name to walmart usa the way things are going. I personally do not shop at walmart or any business that makes their living off of sweatshop workers. Please do not let them do this to the banking business too.

Thank You

Beth A. Miller
